Jesus, the child of God, dictated these words because the world needs to get to know the truth that is the deepest mirror of our existence. It is necessary to realise the light and love in ourselves so that we would at last start out along the path of spiritual development. I would like to provide help with these few pages to all who believe that again a powerful force shall come among us that is to realise everything that it had once started in our world, and I would like to bring down the information in a pure way and with heavenly force that people need in order to find the energies in themselves they used to possess above there. I am channeling the words of God to people, and now the words of Jesus among them. He has chosen me for this task since this is the way for me to complete my purest heavenly mission with his help and this is the way I can increasingly help the earthly as well as the heavenly worlds. I thank them and every heavenly helper for having created the possibility for me to bring down these pure lines to You and believe that all I live and represent is the most important for the 'dwellers' of the earthly world too, since I am confirmed that here is no development without heavenly assistance and there is no love without heavenly energies. I believe that I will be able to bring down all the heavenly knowledge and force that will dislodge people from their usual earthly world so that people can start out along a path dominated by love and in which it is not the lack of money that defines lives but inner desires and the process of creation. Thank you. F. Ildikó

‘Trust yourself and the power of heavenly energies’

I was once born to realise God's will and to embody pure, true and loyal human love in the earthly world but was unable to realise God's will. The energy got started also in me, which you call lovelessness here on the Earth, that caused the force that I had been able to keep up so long die in me. All the faculties of my creativity are stored in love, but in every sentiment of my creativity there is grief since I was unable to create the world for which I was born. My divine existence would have ended, but I did not want to feel what others feel in this earthly world, I did not want to learn what lovelessness really is because I would not have been able to live any longer in that way. I felt that a change had started in my soul, a transformation had started in me due to which I was no longer able to love and accept everything and everyone altruistically and even if only its seed had been present in me that you did not even feel in me, I still knew that it had reached me and I would not be able to stop this energy in me. I was a perfect copy of the energy that I had represented up there and was born here among you in a perfect human body. I developed such devotion to people in me that so few others are able to realise who often give more of themselves than necessary by giving up their own selves. This is what I did. It was not me or my body that was important for me but You, people, and I did not live my own life but kept your sentiments alive while I was here with you in this earthly world. I loved and I was loved, I loved and I was hated by those who were unable to find the tiny seeds of love in themselves, and who were unable to cherish the flavour of love I had given them. I was not angry, just got bitter at seeing how many people's hearts carry the desire for love and still how many human hearts are unable to perceive it in themselves and unable to live this desire in me. They looked at me and said that I was the son of God since I was able to work miracles and I was able to realise my own creative energies. I was able to live as I had lived up there and therefore was able to manifest new objects in objects, help the ill and work miracles with my touch. I would have been able to 'redeem' the world, had you been able to fully allow me to enter your hearts and all the energy I represent to enter your souls. I did not want to realise all that I had to, nor did I want to suffer since I felt I had not been born for that purpose. I did not come here to assume pain from every person that others would not have been able to survive either. I came to bring love and peace to your hearts and thereby unify people for a future in which love and harmony are the standard. I would have been able to realise this, should the lack of energy not have been started in me, in which I was no longer able to love fully and was not able to love altruistically or to realise pure divine love in others by giving up myself. But I do not feel that it would not have been my mission. I did what God asked me to do and although I could not fully complete my task I think I had planted hope in people's hearts that once a man lived who claimed to be the son of God and also behaved like that, and who represented the heavenly world, and in whom such energies were piled up that any person would wish to claim for themselves. I loved and taught love. I wanted people to believe in me and in a world about which they were only talking but which they had never seen, felt or touched. I believed that I would be able to teach people true and pure love and would be able to realise the honest, pure and true sentiment in me by which I can help every person to find their own love. I did not want anything else but to live as a man, and to realise the heavenly harmony and inner balance down here on the Earth that I used to represent up there. God had sent me down among you to bring peace and harmony to your hearts and make people understand that they are able to enjoy their own happy existence and are able to become more by creating the force in themselves by which they are able to attract sentiments to their lives they happen to need. But what is this force? Ask yourselves whether you are able to standfast in the most difficult situations in life and whether you shall be able to standfast to protect the heavenly world if we ask you to. You ask, 'Why we? Why don't they defend themselves? And anyway, what will we need to defend them against?' Yes, now the time has come for you to make use of all the knowledge you had been given up here; the time has come for you to realise all the sentiments you had brought down from up here in you since it is necessary for you to understand the essence of your existence by seeing yourselves clearly at last and to create your ability to change your lives having got aware of your own creativity. It is an opportunity for you and an opportunity for the heavenly world to see the force in you, having got rid of your own burdens, and that you shall be able to create without any external intervention and you will be able to realise your own pure and true reality by utilising your own inner energies. I will not leave you and will soon get born since you will need me to show the way; I shall bring you the love of the earthly world and I shall cherish the flame of love in me by experiencing the sentiments of the earthly world again. I shall show you the way and direct you so that you could represent the heavenly world also down here on the Earth. I shall not stay here for long, just for a while (within a century's interval) so that I could show You what wonderful energies you are carrying in yourselves and how important it is to see that you yourself, and not only others, also carry the love and strength that will advance you in this 'crazy' world. I do not know what living in lovelessness is like since I was unable to face it and went back to my heavenly father before time, but as you realise it day after day, I do not know what sentiments it evokes in you in each situation in life. I know I can see you are suffering and all the energies that you had been given so that they would keep you on your way are suffering with you. I can see that you are unhappy, sad and full of pains the way you exist in your earthly world, and I feel that I shall need to help you since the heavenly world cannot suffer so much pain any more and neither can the universe. Nothing else is needed but peace deep down inside, love in your hearts and you shall be rich. Nothing else is needed but harmony and calm in your lives, and you shall be able to realise your pure and heavenly energies right away. I came down to realise all these in you, I came down to complete all that you should have done in so many lives. You are able to change, because it is necessary for you to realise how important role your hearts play and how important the spiritual direction set by your hearts is for everyone. You are important in the earthly world, and you are also important for us, the energies living in the heavenly world. Believe in yourselves and believe that change is only possible through the purification started in you, and the aspiration for love is started in you and all the strength you carry shall become complete in this life of yours. Remember nothing else but that you have been unable to live in happiness and harmony for so many lives, and that you are again unable to see now what is important in your lives and what is necessary for you to find your true reality.

There is a moment in every person's life when they become able to create their own realities and be able to realise themselves. There comes the divine miracle at a point in every person's life as a result of which they find their own realities and realise themselves. I am asking you, 'Had I been able to realise myself without you? Had I been able to find the reality I had lived in up there?' No, I had not. Your help was needed for me to strip myself of the limitations of my earthly life, and your love carried me further on my way, but it was your lovelessness in which I was no longer able to hide from myself and was unable to live pure and divine truth down here in your earthly world. You are the children of God, and I was also born as a child of God, and tried to create the peace and harmony in me with which I was also teaching you. I did not have a simple nature, but anyone who got to know me got touched by my vast divine energies because you did believe that a certain divine force and will existed in which you could also see yourselves, and there was a kind of energy that was also present in you, and that you were able to create by relying on your own energies. I am asking you now, 'Did you really believe that a force existed in you? And do you believe now that this force is present in you or are you waiting for help from others? Who can help you in such a difficult situation?' Our care is endless, but will you be able to believe also in the hardest of periods that is to be start in your lives that God exists and I, Jesus, exist too, and there exists a higher level energy that would not wish to help you? There is a law and will of a higher order that is going to lay all the power in your hands that you had once been given by Me and You were unable to use. Now you shall be granted the opportunity to create your own reality by us transferring a large part of the energies of creation to you. However, you shall only be able to use it if you look at yourselves, your own reality and your created world with totally pure hearts. Those who are not lead by love and force that would take you along your way, will not be able to utilise these energies and shall be unable to survive the coming decades by themselves.

There is too much lack of energy in you that has been piled up life upon life. You gave way to too much lack of energy in you and thereby too much incapacity has overruled you. Upon my birth, enormous energies were generated in your earthly world and I could create a medium around me in which pure love and light ruled. My dedication is reflected in the way I was brought up by my mother as a child being helped by his mother and received all human love a mother can give her child. I was able to be myself in her presence and was able to create the love of filial love, the symbol of universal love stemming from a happy and balanced human life that I symbolized for you later. I started the energy in the world in which people, having recognised what true, pure and loyal love is, could let go of their unworthy ties and could rest on the altar of love. With my love I triggered the aspiration in so many people's hearts to dare love others too, and listen to the words of their own pure hearts by facing themselves. I made you believe that the Kingdom of God exists, in which the emissaries of the heavenly world are striving to create the harmony and inner desire in you down here in the earthly world to reach purity expressed by pure and honest words and for you to be able to create such a tiny divine flame in which you can be yourselves. In your infinitely beautiful and fabulous lives there never has been a tiny moment in which you would have called for a halt and you would have said, 'I would like to rest and I am asking You, my Dear God, not to impose more incapacity on the earthly world through me.' You were not honest even with yourselves, since you were unable to overcome yourselves and ask the heavenly world to start love in you that would triumph over everything. Now one of you has done it and the heavenly world is listening to her. You have started a process in which we shall be forced to let go of your hands until you reach the path of purification. You were not honest with yourselves and did not see even yourselves clearly since you were looking in the mirror with impure hearts. I tried to open every person's hearts so that you can see each other more and more clearly and dare create the divine energies in you. Had you got to know yourselves, you would have been able to see pure and real love in yourselves and in the other people too, and you would have been able to understand why I was among you. I was not born to deliver you from your 'sins', only to show the way towards yourselves, the love towards yourselves and the love towards the other people. I was born because you had the need for someone to show you the way since you had got lost in your own inner disharmony. I can no longer tolerate so much lovelessness that is present in your world, and I can no longer exist up here either without sentiment the tremendous sorrow in your hearts and the many sufferings in your souls, the inner tension and anger in your chest, and without counting the days one after the other how long I will still have to see this and why you are unable to find LOVE in yourselves. Who else will You need for you to realise at last it is not US who are going to change Your world, but it is You that are needed to change your own world? What force is still to be born in your earthly world for you to realise that it has not come to work miracles to his own delight and to increase your incapacity? We do not appear among you so that you could see the difference in what you see with your eyes, but we have come down to the earthly world to make you believe You are also capable of these all, You are also able to live in a way so that you create everything around you, in a way that is about harmony and inner purity. You have the ability and you are also capable of finding the flame of love in yourselves, the light that lives in you, the light that you have received from us once, the light that is in your hearts and souls, and we are asking you to see all these at last and dare follow your own path by being able to realise these sentiments in yourselves. It is not big words and pomposity that shall hold the ground, but modesty and affectionate touches filled with love and quiet manifestations shall be predominant, but everything in it shall represent love. Someone must move forward to show the way for you at last, who is able to assume all the energies we are giving her; love shall at last find the way to people's hearts. It is impossible that you still do not open your eyes to what is going on in this earthly lovelessness!

I believed and professed love, as I believed and professed heavenly light that I had brought down to You to the glory of God. I believed and hoped that all I had given to You would be heeded and that I had planted the seed of divine love in your hearts and had redeemed your lovelessness transferred to the heavenly world. I was not born to redeem you from your 'sins', I came down to stop lovelessness in the world and to allow myself to love and let you love me so that every person's heart could open to me. I believed that the desire lives in every person's heart to become what they had wanted to become up there and I thought I could honestly tell you where I had come from and what my aim was. I professed light and glory and I professed the many lifegiving energies I had brought down for You to the earthly world. My heavenly Father found the time ripe to open people's hearts on the Earth to understanding the importance of the heavenly world and that we were not to forgive you 'sins' and give the blessing of purity on you instead, but had come down among you to show that you yourselves were able to create peace and harmony in your earthly world, and that, by drawing upon your own energies, you would be able to accept the world beyond yourselves that is invisible to you but still exists and that is invisible to every human being still I believed that you would accept it and open up to it with love. I can see your hearts, I can perceive your thoughts, and I know every inner crinkle you have suffered in each of your lives, still in your lack of desire, you are forced to exist and live in the way you used to. I am therefore forced to get born to show you the right way and I believe that I would be able to live pure and true light, harmony and purity in you and you shall be able to accept the heavenly truth brought down by me. I am not the one you have carved from me, I am unable to exist in any other form than as one of the energies emanating divine energies, and I will be able to evoke these energies from you too. Why will someone need to come down again to open your eyes? Why don't you see all the disbelief in you that is deeply engrained in you? Why do you think the heavenly world is just an illusion and why you are unable to believe that there in fact exists a way out of this maze for you? You shall learn to perceive us and you shall have to live with the knowledge that there exists another world besides yours in which pure light and love prevails and where a mournful energy has already evolved in which the many bright and harmonic forces that used to shine up there no longer find themselves. A mournful sentiment has evolved in us in which You are involved. We can see your sufferings and how much you are unable to rejoice at what you are, how much your material world has shifted towards the direction in which not your pure divine energies are in the foreground but material goods. You shall again be able to perceive who you are and find the forces in you that you shall need in order to realise yourselves again shining in pure light and happiness. You shall not be afraid of this energy since you shall be able to look at each other the way you looked at me once and you would again be able to love each other by opening your hearts. What else will you need to realise how much you are worth? What else will you still need so that you would perceive me around the earthly world and feel that you are able to live in us and find the way to yourselves? You will not only need light and strength but also to believe in us and to believe that there exists a reality that is not only an illusion for you, and to accept our existence. You are unable to talk to us without illusions, and you stare incredulously at those who are able to do this. Your disbelief has become so deep that you do not believe those who can see us or refer to apparitions filled with uneventful and partial energies in which we are not fully present as miraculous places. The spoken word is more important for you than what you feel. I am the man of sentiments and I was led by my sentiments every moment of my earthly existence. My earthly sentiments were as deep as those of the person who is writing to You now for me and helping you in the moments you realise emotions you believe to be the most sacred ones. You do not need big words; what I am trying to pass on to you with her help is only a warning to you. You do not need anything else but faith, to have faith that your existence is not by chance. Do believe that the main reason for your existence is that you have come down to the Earth to learn, and that, at the time of your birth, you undertook your heavenly mission with faith and humility. You did not enter the earthly world to aggravate the lack of energy bestowed upon you by the human world by forging lovelessness in you and to create emotions in others by your nature that are void of divine energies. You are here in this earthly world to carry on what you had represented in the heavenly world so that you would be able to create the faith and strength in you for what you are, and be able to realise the purity, light and harmony in you and pass them on to others. I did believe that there existed an earthly world in which I had my place. I did believe that there existed a force that was waiting for me, and I did believe that mankind was not about what I could see from above, and the sentiments you brought down were not lost in you, and I did believe that you were able to realise yourselves here on the Earth too. I made no difference in loving people. I loved everybody and everything that existed on the Earth and I thought that you also saw me in the same way. I hopelessly fought for getting myself and my faith accepted on the Earth and I lived with faith towards you. I hoped that I would be able to light the flame of love in you, and I knew if I failed, someone else would come instead of me who would try it again, someone else ... who would try and try to show the way for You again and again and would try to make you understand what was important for you. I do not think the events should take this course in your world. I do not believe that the amount of love you carry in your hearts should be realised in this way. I do not believe that everything that has got created around you is the result of your lack of energy conveyed in lightlessness, and I did not want anything else but to bring love to the Earth and trust you. I love every person here on the Earth, since every person's goodness carries my strength and energy too. I would like to give you confidence and would like to trust that there is much strength in you and you shall be able to create the divine light and energy that you had brought down in your own emotions. Why can't you see yourselves? Look into yourself and feel how much strength and faith dwells in you. How many important things exist besides you in which You are also present by means of your own energies!

Please, have faith in yourself and that there exists a world beyond you where you also belong and You are also part of. Do believe at last that you are important in the world and you have not been born to hurt yourself and others by expressing your thoughts and emotions. Believe that the power is in you to overcome your weakness and you are able to love, truly, honestly and purely. You are in fact able to believe that we exist and believe that not what is visible should be important for you but your own heart and emotions are the most important. Please, have faith in us and in yourself; do believe that the words I am dictating to You are not hollow ones but the plain truth. I am faithful to my God and to the heavenly world I was prophesying when I was born and shall be faithful to them at the moment of my next birth too. I am not coming among you as a child to work miracles but as an ordinary boy, still my heart shall be as pure and honest as has never been in this earthly world. My faith and strength shall be so powerful that there will be no one who could state the opposite regarding my God and I firmly know that I shall create the opportunity for You to realise yourselves again as well as the power that you are carrying in yourselves. I am coming down, since God has found the time ripe for me to be born again, and has also found the time ripe to create the possibility for purification in your hearts. As a little boy, I shall be as charming and harmonious as I used to be, but I shall also create the time in my life when the force I am to transfer to you shall reach you. You must not get frightened because I am only bringing down honest and pure love and what so many are talking about. I shall be able to create faith in you and I believe that it shall be the type of energy for you in which every person shall be able to love in the same way and every person shall be able to realise their purity in the same way. Even a shipwrecked person is crying out for help when he is trying to escape in his sinking boat, so this is how you have cried out for help to the heavenly world and this is why I am coming down to you now.

You can live a fearless life, you can receive fearless energies through me, and you shall have to find this love in yourselves so that I shall start this process in you. This is why you shall get purified now so that by the time I get strengthened, your hearts shall be ready to receive pure godly energy and you shall be ready to change your frequencies so that you could join the cycle of energy that has started around the Earth. I do not believe you could reach such a frequency on your own but I do believe that together we shall be able to create the force that will be able to survive even when the boat is sinking. I brought down pure heavenly love into the world and created the opportunity for you to open up towards each other and also created the opportunity for you to have a sentiment born in you which comprises all the heavenly knowledge that you used to represent. The key to earthly life is the knowledge gained in the heavenly world. Each earthly life must be so perfect in itself that it shall fit in the flow of energy for which you were born. Earthly life is not simply a battle of interests and privileges but, upon your births, you get into such a vortex of energy in which you can find yourselves in a complicated world, where ambitions, lovelessness and disharmony have overruled you. It is a world for you where you have to prove yourselves. To prove to yourselves and to your roles filled in the heavenly world that you are able to live in the way you could live up there. The more you are trying to fight against your earthly existence, the more you are involved in situations in which lovelessness triumphs, since you tend to follow the easier way for not being strong enough and for being unable to live the way your hearts would dictate. You are not able to create around you since you do not feel the weight a word told carries for us and therefore you are not able to create your own happy and balanced world so that richness, success and harmony would be part of your lives. Why can't you see your barriers built up around you, why can't you utilise the energies you are carrying in your hearts? I shall tell you, because it is impossible to feel the pureness in yourselves in such a lack of energy, it is impossible to realise what pure, true and loyal love and humility is among such lovelessness by those who have the light in them, or by me who was born because I believed I would be able to represent love in this earthly world.

The greatest key to your earthly existence is love. You were born here to afford yourselves this treasure and volunteered to be born so that Planet Earth could be given as much love as possible thereby ensuring its survival. You did not come here because you were sent by anyone. Your own free will created the opportunity for you to live here in 'peace and harmony' with each other. You were the ones who had undertaken this beautiful task and now you are unable to realise what you are. You have got lost down here in the earthly world. The time has come for us to teach you true, pure and honest love by yourselves and others, and to plant the possibility in your hearts for a new development process to start in a new world in which you will wish to participate. It is not only the earthly world that exists in the universe. It is not only your planet around which energetic changes are taking place. As a result of the Earth, the planet, such huge lacks of energy got created among the other planets in our solar system that endanger the formation of the total universal cohesive force and abet the collapse of an all powerful universal world. And this is no longer a light matter. It is not simply about doing good or bad in this earthly world. It is not about your finding a new job or not. It is not about whether the child you so much desire will be born to you. It is about your feeling responsible not only for yourself and your own deeds but for the whole society, the world and the universal forces that tolerate no protest and would start changes before letting one planet suppress all the aspirations for love.

I am asking You to believe me, and I am asking You to use your knowledge that you have received from up there. You say you are unable to create. But you are! Have a look at your life! You create the 'bad' so fast since creating the many lacks of energy, invectives and negative forces is much more 'simple' for you. This is why the world is where it is. But how much nicer it would be to create love and earthly beauty down here by positive energies?

I believed and still believe that you are still able to hold on for yourselves, and it is not only an emotion that gets started in you hearing these words. I professed the flame of love to you as the son of God and I believed that you were able to change, but now I would only like to ask you to have the power to face yourselves and your own energies as well as the process that has started in your world. It is not a pleasant feeling for you for the time being since you must know that so much lack of energy deriving from your previous lives is hidden in your spirits and subconscious that you shall participate in an astounding purification of strength. But you are able to realise the 'bad' you have produced. And you shall be able to realise the light, love and harmony that those who see their pure and true selves shall receive and shall be able to live and act for both themselves and others in real love.

I did not come down to you in vain. In your earthly world so much beauty, richness, power, light and love dwells that I could not easily tear myself away from these energies. It was not easy to accept that lovelessness had started in the earthly world and I fought with all my might to stop it. I could have had a brilliant 'career', if I may say so, since I had brought so much strength down with me that I would have been able to move whole worlds. But it was not my task. My task involved starting love in you and starting the desire in you to create light in yourselves having got to know yourselves and to realise it. I felt that many have opened up a lot to me and would have given anything for my touch, and I felt that not only this was important for me but also for you to believe in your own strength and that You have also come from where I did and that you should also be able to realise the same energies if you dared squarely face yourselves once. Rise and decline, they have both presented themselves in the course of centuries in the earthly world. You rose, then, having got scared of your own energies, decline started, since you failed to believe that you deserved the good and you deserved all that could be given to you by the materiality of the earthly world here. You have got lost. Feeling is so nice and good, and feeling is so nice and perfect, but even if a single obstacle is in your way, you give up everything you have achieved up to that point. I mean in your sentiments, since your sentiments rule your lives and you also emit energies to the universal world through your sentiments. It is wrong to think that mostly your thought have creative forces. No. The sentiment deep down inside is what starts the physical changes in your world, and you are lost in your sentiments. I do not know what sentiment you shall need in order for you to be able to face yourselves purely and honestly, and to be able to realise yourselves the way you must. Do not be dishonest with yourself, and do not try to be different from what you are! Do not want more from destiny than what you have planned for yourself, but one thing is sure, what you had planned for yourself is not excruciation, being short of money, love and happiness – this is the surest I, Jesus, the son of God, can tell you. I love you and I love what you are and what I have also been able to be in your earthly world, but I also love my father, and I feel that I shall be able to do something with Ildikó's help to support your spiritual development and to help you along the path you have set for yourselves and in realising your dreams. Have faith and be aware that Jesus, the heavenly world, Virgin Mary and all the Archangels, Angels, risen masters and teaching masters exist and take care of You.

Have faith in yourselves and in the heavenly world. Believe that we really exist and the main aim of our existence is to help you. You have created a force in you in which our existence is surrounded with doubt and you have created a force in you in which you are unable to love yourselves. You shall see that everything will work out as you would like them, if you are able to create your own happiness by overcoming your lacks of energy. See how wonderful life you have in the earthly world. God has created all the 'ingredients' for you to fulfil your tasks but you are unable to overcome your limitations. You fail to see the force in yourselves that is able to start you off in the earthly world along the path of development. You are piling dishonesty over dishonesty and cannot confess even to yourselves that this is not the place and sentiment you would like to realise, and are unable to stop your material desires only because you believe that they will really fill your hearts with joy. You are not willing to change your incapacity in which you have got lost so many times, and are unable to call a halt to your lacks of energy. What shall all these lead to? Ask yourself and deep down inside you know the answer. The earthly world is suffering from such disharmony that you shall be unable to maintain the current situation; your earthly world shall deteriorate more and more until you become unable to restrain your emanated lacks of energy and they shall take your earthly world sooner or later.

You are not able to use your divine energies and I do not believe that the desire in every person's heart is dominated by the aspiration for impurity and dishonesty. The more people live on the Earth, the more lack of energy is released into the enormous sea of the universe because you do not realise yourselves and you are already lost at the moment of your birth. 'Why did I come among you? Why did I want to get born?

God sent me to do all the things that so many had been unable to do up to that time. To create an enormous flow in the hearts of mankind in which the energy can develop that stems from deep love and humility towards the heavenly world and therefore towards you too. I was born among you in the hope of cooperation, and in harmony with my heavenly mission, I would have liked to enjoy all the joys as a man that you also enjoy down there. I lost my way since I did not believe the problem was so big in you and I was unable to act against anyone so that that person would get to know his real self. I was unable to force you to face yourselves since I wanted to assume everything from you. And that made me unable to carry so much lovelessness in myself and God asked me to return to him since he could not have borne so much lovelessness any more that I would have brought back from the earthly world. I was not strong enough for my task since I was unable to show you that love can sometimes hurt, and love does not teach us by altruistically sacrificing everything that is the most important for it, but love teaches people by showing what is not working properly in it, and by overcoming his own lovelessness, it plants the seeds of love. I, however tried to plant this seed in you by assuming all human weak-heartedness, suspicion, inclemency, unmercifulness and all the sentiments that people can accumulate in themselves in the earthly world. I did not have an easy task, but I came down to realise all this, and I left with a sad heart for I was unable to do what, I now understand, should have been done so that human lovelessness would not proliferate in the world. I was unable to realise my own love either because I failed to find such a true and faithful partner in whom I could have realised all this. It was so difficult to realise myself because I saw your human weaknesses and therefore I was unable to love and accept anybody with a pure heart. I was unable to stay with a girl or woman in whom I did not see the pure love I myself represented and was looking for in others. But I have seen a lot in your world and felt the heavenly love in many people; still they were unable to also show it to others, they were guarding the flame in themselves because they believed that they would preserve its beauty. You must not guard something that is not purely in you! You must not think that what there is is the total, pure, true and loyal love! The truth is in the person who confronts you and tells you honestly, purely and without any hidden interest, 'I love you'. This is real purity since all YOU are is reflected in it. I also needed the directions from our Father and I do need it even to this day, because I am able to exist alone but I also know that his words show me the most correct direction and I know that each earthly person is waiting for experiencing their lives following his word. You cannot make a mistake if you are controlled by him, and creating the light and strength in us is such a pure and true sentiment in which we can find ourselves. I do not understand either, why we do not seek the flame in ourselves and why we need somebody else. Why do we have to go anywhere for consolation, why don't we believe that connections within the heavenly world are enough and we do not need anything else but our pure, true and honest love to ourselves? I am asking you to love yourselves and accept that you would be able to communicate with us at least so purely as the lady I am dictating to right now does, and that you could live in the world with at least such pure and true love as I used to live, and that you are able to encourage others with at least such affectionate and honest words that I am telling you right now. Believe that the strength is also in you and love also lives in you that others need, believe that you have also at least as much fire and strength as is needed to help others too! Do have faith in yourself because this is the only way to reach the way leading to yourself, and this is how you shall be able to help others. Believe.

The lack of energy in your world is of such a scale that you are unable to see what pure truth is. You cannot grasp how big the 'trouble' is in the world since you are lost in it and you live your everyday lives in it. You do not even think that it is impossible for the earthly world to absorb so much lack of energy without falling back on you and your earth. You poison yourselves and your earthly world and you do not lead your lives as you should. You are unable to see that this world has already started to deteriorate, and You are the embodiments of it. You are unable to see the lacks of energy working around you, and how important purity would be for the earthly world. Is it important for you to realise yourselves still on the Earth? Is it important for you also to be surrounded by happiness in your earthly world? Is it important for you to be able to realise yourselves here on the Earth? I think that each human heart is striving for perfection and to be able to realise God's true love here on the Earth, and every human heart is striving for perfection down here among the other people by living itself. Why don't you see all this and why do you feel that it would normally not work like this? Why do you always need proof of the 'deterioration' of your earthly world and why is it necessary to make you understand so 'violently' that You are the ones who can act for the benefit of your own world? Your waters are unclean, you have contaminated and polluted them by your sentiments, and you are unable see that purification is in fact the only way and way out. I do not want to hurt you, nor would I like to give you advice since you are so incredulous that a lot of you shall not even believe Ildikó that I am talking to her. Still I am forced to remind you that what is going on in your earthly world is not good, and it is not possible to stop this energy if you do not participate in the process. I cannot visit you one by one because amid the many lacks of energy you are unable to perceive, let alone hear, what I wish to pass on to You, but I know that her, who is the purest source in the earthly world, shall bring down the information I, Jesus, hand over via her to You. It is remarkable how empathic and expressive all her divine channeling for others is, and how much she knows when and what I think and feel, and how much she finds what I happen to have in my mind in connection with my life in the earthly world. You must be born for that purpose, I have been observing her since the moment of her birth and helped her in her perfection, because the heavenly world expects to have a person who listen to its words, and by giving faith to her, shall pass these words on to other people and the people who also believed in me shall pass them on to others, and soon, what I would like to send to You, is going to get to every person. I am afraid it is late, but I also know that it is not the time for me to give up, since I used to live as a man among you too; I also know what lovelessness is and what getting lost in what I would like to represent and live is and getting lost in my own reality. I know what pain is, I know what experiencing myself in a way in which I cannot perfect my physical reality and therefore cannot exist in the way I would like means. I am afraid that the words I am addressing to you should have got to you a long long time ago, but the heavenly world could no longer tolerate all what you are doing to yourselves, could not tolerate what you are doing with your earthly world! You shall live up to this world; you shall face yourselves at last so that you would be able to stand up to us and to others! What does it really mean? Realising yourself as you realised your own purity up there, realising yourself and the love of others by drawing on your divine energies, and by transferring your own divine energies to others and opening their hearts to the sound of love and their own pure divine realities. I would like to see you happy, and would like to give you all the support for this. I would like if you were not alone but would be able to realise yourselves in another person, and you were able to look at another person by feeling that that person supports, loves and accepts you the way you are but also grants the opportunity to You to develop further. You shall recognise what you are, and build up your inner world that must be made complete. You shall find the way leading to this end, and take steps in your physical lives, which you have been afraid of so far, which you have suffered from, but you knew that you would be unable to take, but there is no other possibility but to realise yourselves so that you would also be able to help others.

You are full of fear and therefore you shall be full of these incapacities. It means that you are unable to realise the love of yourselves and you are unable to find your places in your earthly world. You do not see the path to perfection since the lot of incapacities draw you down. Believe me that it is not pure reality what you are experiencing and what your life is going to be like will not depend on it. It is not the material goods that define your opportunities in life, whether they get completed or realised, it is only the energies you carry in yourselves.

You do not understand that you live in an energy trap, and you do not understand that there is no other way for your energies to get purified than total purification also affecting physical life. You are able to leave the burdens of the past behind, the many barriers that you have built around yourselves, and you are able to create your future. If you had enough faith and pure energies, you would have no problems with what the future will bring, and your heart would not yearn for opportunities that are in fact valid in your material and physical world. Because you would be able to attract opportunities and create them in you the physical manifestation of which would be here within a few months' because you are able to create around yourselves for you have come to create the conditions in your lives relying on which you can develop and reach a higher intellectual level. What is the development that is so hard for you to realise? Development is hidden in you. All spiritual being comes down to the physical world to develop and learn and to complete all what he had lived above. Down on the Earth, all the people are unable to contact their own spiritual energies and thereby unable to see their own lives clearly, what is good and what is less perfect in their lives, and judge accordingly whether the changes occurring in their lives are good or less favourable. I say to You that this mentality shall be changed and you shall consider why such people are around you that are in your life and why you end up in situations that you face. Believe in yourself and you shall see that a change is going to get started in your life. Believe in yourself and you shall see that you are able to realise pure heavenly happiness down here. Watch the physical signs around you, watch what you are doing and what you have not done and why it has had to be like that. Watch and realise. This is what I, Jesus, am asking you now.

Please, have faith in yourself, and have faith that what you are in the world is just as good as I used to be.

Are you able to believe in yourself and be creative so that you would be happy? Are you able to realise what you really are and believe that this reality is the same as the one above here? You need faith to believe that the strength lives in you and the ability lives in you to create happiness and energies, and thereby you shall have everything around you on the physical plane. Living in happiness is realising the highest level of love towards myself. Living in happiness means creating a world in me and around me in which harmony, love, friendship and strength rule all sentiments and in which I feel just as well even if I am downcast as in an elevated mood. Being happy means realising my purest sentiments and creating all this also in another person, who shall also have the desire to realise his or her own pure and true love. I do not understand people. I can see day after day how they are burying their own sorrows in the same small and dark 'hole' that You consider as heart. The place of your heart is no longer taken up by an enormous bright flame but it is merely the dumpsite of sorrows. I do not want to hurt you or to cause any more sorrow to You, I can simply see in which 'wrong' direction all the strength flows that you are trying to create in order to realise your own 'true' reality. I can see at the cost of what effort you are trying to become yourselves and find your place in the world. But I am asking you what effort is needed for you to realise your own pure, true and harmonic happiness and love? Why isn't a tiny 'position' in life enough for this, and the multitude of realised memories that you had planned up here. Why do you need big words for you to believe that you are a brave, strong and true person? Why do you want to prove yourself all the time or to provide evidence of what You really are, and get lost in the maze of lovelessness? Lovelessness starts in you as soon as you are unable to realise your own inner reality. When you are unable to live so that happiness would permeate your hearts and souls, and enjoy all the small moments of happiness that you once enjoyed at the beginning of your infantile lives. Are you able to see the good in you? Are you able to perceive all the inner beauties you have so far been unable to admit and see in yourself? And are you able to realise and find the same goodness, harmony, beauty and truth in others' eyes you really is? You must not start out in every direction when you cannot see even your own emotions clearly and you are unable to realise even your own reality. Do not try to be different from what you are and do not try to hide in someone else's skin to be accepted. You are also able to realise true and happy moments by showing your self, since the desire is at the bottom of your heart to be at last loved for yourself, to be able to realise yourself and people would accept you as you are and thereby bring happiness to others. 'Are you able to do all these?', I, Jesus, am asking from you. Are you able to realise the sentiments given by you in others and your own sentiments, your own inner reality in others who happen to stand by you? You are, just believe! Have faith and love your faith in being able to realise it for you know what you desire and you know what you would like in your life, and you know what you will need to do in order to have the change started in you and in the other people around you. After all, you have been born to be happy and did not come to the earthly world to deliver the world by your sufferings. I did not come among you for this reason either but You, people, still do not understand that my farther did not decide over me since he had wanted it at the very beginning and it was 'foretold' for me, only because the desire got started in me to walk the path of lovelessness and I was unable to possess so much sorrow and sadness that I had taken over from you. I do not blame you for this, for no person is able to see clearly through sunglasses when it is raining. No person is able to see the seed of lovelessness in himself if he lives in lovenessness. I was not able to admit it either, that it is painful to look into the past, and that we must not brood over the past because every person who lives around me has brought a painful past with them and it was impossible for me to carry so much pain without being touched by it. I had no pain in me at the moment I arrived in the Earth. I had no incapacity in me when I was down here among you right until the moment my strenth was crushed in me and I started to think about what love really was, what lovelessness actually was, and why people did not see clearly what true and honest love towards myself and others was. Before it started in me, I had been able to realise myself but after such an energy started in my soul, I also started down the way of despondency for I felt that even My strength was insufficient to bring down the love of the heavenly world to you, to your Earth. I am sorry but actually these all had led to my inability to realise my own pure and true love and that I was able to leave the earthly world. Even despite these words and despite all the sufferings, I would have stayed on, should I have seen that we were able to create and start love, happiness, joyfulness, hope and faith with a word in you by you being able to create by your words and deeds, if you followed the way of pure and true love. But you did not believe, your doubts were stronger, and the word a person uttered was stronger than everything God has sent by me as a message. The weakness, pain and lovelessness of every person were stronger than what I passed on to you in the messages of the heavenly world. You blamed me, you humiliated me and shook your own faith and you were unable to see that by doing all these, you stifled the source of faith present in you and slowly quenched it, and was looking for a handhold in something else, in earthly things to which you attached the sentiment of happiness. What earthly happiness is it in which I cannot be myself? What earthly sentiment lives up to the unrestrained and pure happiness of me and others, in which I can be what I used to be and can realise sentiments in which I can live the love of me and others? This 'distortion' shall be changed in you and you will need to be able to love, and you will need to make yourselves able to believe the flame of love is indeed present in you, and when it starts, you shall be able to live the deepest love of yourselves. And then you will not need to apologise for anything you say or do, since there will be no place for malice, disharmony or pain in the inner beauty and, by realising all these, you can have a true and pure life here in the earthly world. Therefore have faith that you shall be able to create all these for you and trust the support of the heavenly world and that we need You for you to make this divine love yours, since YOU are part of the cohesion of the world as well as others, and we count on your participation as we count on the participation of others.

There is lightlessness in all your sentiments if you cannot realise the love you have been born for. To create light in you is so easy but so difficult it is to realise down here in the earthly world. The aspiration for love is present in you as well as for realising the harmony of love, but you are unable to create all this in your own world. Love cannot be extorted from others, the desire is to be started only in you to realise yourselves. You will have to overcome your fear and thereby create the energy in your hearts in which you can realise pure, honest and true love. The desire is in you to see yourselves in each person, and the desire is also in you to realise everything you had represented up here. To create the light in you and your pure heavenly world in such pure sentiments, in which you cannot get lost. You would not be able to get alienated from others and live in lightlessness, if you could once realise yourself so purely and honestly. In the light of all these, I am asking you to help each other by starting such a purification process in which you create light, harmony and purity. Dare experience your own sentiments and dare express your happiness, and when expressing your sadness and pains, having said them, do let go of them and send such light and harmony to others instead, on a mental plane full of love, in which they can also realise themselves. Imagine, how easier your world would be and how much easier you would manage problems if this type of purity got formed in every person, because you would say what bothered you and you would not start fears, animosity and barriers in the other because he would listen to it, accept it and change it if he also finds it true. If you lived like this, you would not generate so much hatred and would be unable to live so that you would be angry with others. You would be unable to realise your inner lovelessnesses, and you would be unable to live in lightlessness since your hearts, souls, body and spirit would only admit pure and honest energies. There would not be so many dishonest gestures and motions (deceits, thefts, lies and other actions driven by fear energies), because you would be unable to realise your own impurities. You would have a life without fear and you would not be able to pass by another person without wanting to brush by or touch that person or give or say some good words to that person. In your pure energy, you would see all that you had represented up there and would live your own pure divine love without having to take any extra effort. You would find all the strength in you that you need and what you would like to realise here in the earthly world. Honesty and purity would surround your days and create everything in which the beauty of the earthly world must be realised. Your Earth is beautiful; nature is endowed with beauty and harmony, and the heavenly world shall endure until the last to purify you and for you to be able to realise your inner and external worlds. Why should your earthly world be abandoned because you are unable to take this tiny step? Why would you have to face the most difficult sentiments in you if you could change your life in one or two little steps? Why do you think that you are unable to act for yourselves, and for having a better life? I do not think that you shall have to experience all the strengths in which you will need to suffer the many pasts, and all the incapacities that you accumulated during your lives. There is an easier solution: to live and exist so that you can create pure and honest sentiments in you! You shall see what is nice in you and realise it. You must know that the moral of every life is that you have built up a new sentiment in you and tried to realise its energies as a result. You have learnt something new in almost every life and left for your heavenly home enriched with new sentiments. BUT! It is necessary to realise and recall only the bad and negative sentiments in your sentiments? Is it necessary to exist in order to create the sentiments of fear, disharmony and being lost in your hearts? No, it is not. Recall love in you and the sentiments that are about love and about keeping in contact with the heavenly world, with respect, bravery and strength. Ask your heavenly advocate (your spiritual self) to make you feel the nice sentiments you have already realised that you have stored in yourself during your previous lives or here in the heavenly world. So your spirit does not store and carry only the bad sentiments in itself. Recall the spiritual guidance that you used to give to others and recall your strength as that you are would be able to realise and create all the energies around you in which you used to exist up here too. If you are able to do this, you will be able to realise love here in the earthly world and will be able to change your own destiny. You shall become able to create such beautiful things around you which you do not even dare dream of, and you shall become able to live your life purely, honestly and in love. Please, do not ignore my words and listen to every single word that I have dictated to Ildikó, since it is such help for you by which you may leave your lovelessness behind and start out towards the gates of divine love, and you may find your true love down here in the earthly world. You shall surely be happy when you see what changes get started in your life because we have started the energies and you shall just need to realise them. Now I have given some foretaste to this because you shall find the way to yourself so that you can realise everything you would like to.

You shall recognise your own earthly reality and create all the harmony in it that you used to realise up here. You shall see the values in you and the strength that shall guide you also in hard times and you should not falter before any task that seems difficult. You shall learn to see and assess your own faults so that there would be a balance in every person's heart by you being able to forgive each other and most of all to yourselves. In each perception the threads of love are present that you used to represent, and each divine energy is to realise the glory down here in the earthly world and also in the inner, enclosed divine sphere. As I was also left alone once, the aspiration shall also start in you to realise the word 'alone' and to get your whole self perfected. All the sentiments shall start in you having learnt how to draw on your own energies and ask for the help of the heavenly world by being able to stand your ground anywhere. You must not believe that all the strength and energy surrounding you is only to hurt you. You must not think that all the energy that is hidden deep down in you has only come down to you to interfere with your mental liberties. All the energies around you are teaching you, and anything you experience, let it be 'good' or 'bad', has only come down to you in your form of interpretation to gain experience. Are you not good enough to feel us or not resolute enough to have the aspiration for love created in you? It is no use generating any such kind of fear in you and it is no use inviting all incapacities because you are unable to see your own lack of energy and unable to realise your own pure and honest love. You cannot know, as I could not know either, what kind of person you really are – you cannot feel all the energies around you because so strong a calling directs you down here in the earthly world that is about nothing else but the desire to measure up, and endlessly bathe in others' love so that you would start a force in you telling you that you may only perfect myself by means of others and be more here in the earthly world by others. Everybody bears their own cross as you put it, and every person down here on the Earth does in fact have their own earthly missions and the desire is created in them to complete their missions in the worthiest way. The trouble only is that the word 'worthiest' is restricted to your physical realisations only and thereby you ignore the spiritual teaching that tells you that you are able to realise yourselves in the form you used to do up here, and to lead a life in the earthly world by trying to realise your divine mission by the strength of the greatest love.

A whole spiritual world is going to feel the force your divine God has started towards you and the aspiration shall be started in every person's heart to complete their divine missions by living their pure and honest lives and, by adjusting to the purification processes of the past, reevaluate their lives, ways of life and the desire is planted in their hearts to lead lives free from external influences and based on real and true love. In your lightlessness there is nothing more than real divine love and nothing can be of a higher rank than the divine will that you used to represent up here. I do not say these words to hurt you, I would only like to help You by that every force coming down now into the earthly medium is born purely to restore your own imbalances and each human being who is to be born in the coming ten years shall trouble themselves as children of the divine spark to build a new world. Whether blessed with 'weaker' or stronger physical properties, or driven by energies farther from or closer to the Earth, the essence is that any child born to your earthly world in the coming period shall start your heavenly purification prompted by pure light energies. You shall receive this strength not only by means of children's energies but many archangels shall also come down among you as personifications of your earthly energies in 'spiritual' manifestations, not by assuming physical bodies but to help your purification. Many energetic changes shall be started in your lives and many blocks shall be resolved by your becoming able to live your pure and true love.

Physical changes are going to start in your lives and you shall be exposed to such strong effects in which a lot of you are going to say that they are unable to realise the seed of true love in these 'circumstances' and therefore shall leave for their heavenly homes. You shall not be able to realise the light in you and you shall not be able to realise love in yourselves and thereby you shall not be able to stay here in the physical form of earthly embodiment. Only the people having assumed their physical bodies are to be afraid of these who are unable to listen to their hearts and create their external worlds by their internal love. They are unable to recognise life without the 'importance of money' and are unable to realise themselves by turning their backs on the incapacities created in their material worlds and complete their missions. You shall no longer be able to realise your lovelessness. In your lovelessness the thoughts filled with money and dominated by the material world permeate your bodies and you are thereby unable to create your inner worlds.

You shall see that in the period of change all your human properties shall be revalued and all human love that lives in you shall emerge and the true and pure desire shall be created in you to start out along your paths. In each heart, inner sentiments are gaining ground, and every 'human' truth ceases to exist that you have believed about your physical world so far. All 'human' love, in which you used to live, is getting revalued in you and the desire shall be born in every heart to start along the path of purification by realising their innermost sentiments. Lovelessness shall not leave any trace in you, and your lovelessness is going to cease as soon as you have overcome a difficult time in which your purification is going to be the most important. You must not think that we do not want to rescue you and that we do not want good for you. The word 'good' shall lose its meaning in its own interpretation because in your earthly truth you shall find all the beauties that you had represented above and create the energies in you in which you have caused sufferings for so many lives by being unable to believe that you are in fact able to love and able to live in the way you used to live up here, in purity, peace, harmony, love, glory, health, richness and light. You thought that you lived all human lives in order to preserve the way of life governed by a disharmonic ego and headed for lightlessness and lovelessness. No! This shall stop to exist since you shall be unable to carry on the insufficient, routine and aggressive ways of existence in which money, lovelessness and life without bravery and undertaking are predominant. You shall not be able to create if your hearts are not pure, and you shall not be able to experience others if you have so much lovelessness in you. It would not be possible to exist down here in the earthly world by waiting for others to instruct you how you should live. An inner aspiration and desire is to be formed in you so that you would experience all the positive affirmations tied to health in which you have so far been unable to exist. You dread illnesses and you dread all the incapacities in which your physical lives seem to be threatened, and dread the self-revelations in which you lived and existed without finding beauty in you. You are not brave. You are afraid to realise your own pure will by being led by your inner desires and love, and you are thereby unable to create the natural harmony with your external reality and thereby you shall be unable to realise the sentiments in you that you represent. You cannot be so naive to think that only your physical world exists. You cannot be so blind to believe that you shall not experience anything else but the 'happiest' moments of your physical existence, and I do not believe that every human being in which the aspiration for all these had been so strong is abruptly going to be able to start along the path of spiritual development and realise their own pure and true realities as they had done up here. Therefore we are asking you to listen to these words because we shall otherwise not be able to make you understand the foundations of your heavenly reality without starting the change in you as well as the aspiration for you to be able to realise your own pure and true love, and we will be unable to leave out any 'son of man', and we will be unable to leave out energies that start changes in your physical lives and dislodge you from your imbalances. You must not be scared of a physical illness, but you must know why it has got started in you. If you are able to realise the inner relaxing energies that make you believe that it has all happened so that you could start along the path of spiritual development, you shall not let go of the earthly world, and you shall be able to see your own reality in a different way – and you shall start along the path of realising physical love. There will be people who are unable to accept their sentiments and the inner lack of desire they have realised so far, and in whom these purification processes are not going to start, and they shall leave our earthly world in the hope of a new life. I must say not many people shall be able to face what they have believed about themselves so far and they shall feel ousted, that everything they have lived for so far and everything they have realised so far has been taken away from them. But I am asking you not to think like this. It will not be easier, what's more, you shall make your purification process harder, and you cause even more difficult situations in life for yourself. Do not want to 'panic' because your money is insufficient for a living or you cannot buy the car or the house for yourself that you would deserve. Not yet. But the time has come for you to accept that all these are happening to you so that you can realise your own inner 'impurity' and the life tasks left behind and brought from your previous lives that you were once unable to realise. You shall not be able to develop in any other ways. Do not protest because you cannot do anything. The divine energies have already started and nothing is going to stop them, God or man. No one is going to experience suffering if you become aware of all these and no one is going to experience what homelessness is if you are able to realise your inner faith and reality and that what you are is enough, and you are able to lead a rich, healthy and honest life by yourself. Nothing else is needed but to transform your conscience and heart, nothing else is needed but for you to believe that you really are worth as much in this earthly world as anyone else, and you are in fact able to create your own pure and true reality by letting go of all barriers, worries and fears of the past that rule your current life and you fill your heart, soul and conscience with the love energy received through the heavenly help that actually lives in you. Your faith is strong and you are able to believe that you can be rich and happy, and most of all, by creating your inner balance, you shall create a more beautiful future for yourself. Do not believe and do not be satisfied with the 'repository' of the opportunities provided by the physical world. You can gain a lot more. Inner peace, harmony and love in a form in which the aspiration for pure life exists, in the mirror of affluence and happiness.

Man lives with faith, as you say, and this faith is the most important in your earthly world. If you believe that you are able to realise yourself and create everything you used to represent up there, you shall be able to realise love and peace, harmony and glory in you. The light lives in you, love lives in you, just let yourself realise them. Follow your heart and believe in yourself that you shall be able to create peace and harmony in your soul. Every human life that you have lived here is about struggle. All the worries and pains created in every human life are piled over the sentiments in you on which you should be feeding in your next life. It is not possible for you to realise all that you once experienced if you are unable to find your own pure and true faith since if you do what you once did, you shall be unable to change. The change can only be started in people in whom the possibility is created to change their own ways of thinking, lives and who are able to realise the energies they are carrying deep down.

Have faith in yourself that you are able to create. Believe in yourself that you are able to live how you used to live once up there and that you are able to realise pure heavenly happiness down here in your earthly world. Why are you doubtful of my words? Why are doubts whether you will be able to create all that you have come down for and that you can lead a happy, harmonic and balanced life started in you? I live in you and I am with you in every minute of the day and I would like to see that you are able to realise your own true reality and you are able to evoke such sentiments in yourself that serve the good of humanity. Let us discuss what your own true reality means to you, and what other's faith and harmony means to you. Why is it important for the people around you to have true and pure faith towards themselves and others and why is it important that they should also be able to create all the sentiments they used to represent up there? Do not try to have thoughts and sentiments that could change your world but say them out loud and word your scruples and doubts but also your happiness and the moments you have realised too. Believe in your own energies and that you are able to create harmonic and intimate moments also in your environment by realising your own inner purity and all the sentiments day after day down in this earthly world that you would have liked to see in you from up here. Do not get lost in the many angry and hot-tempered words and do not get lost among the people from whom you only get 'invectives'. They, like you, have come down to the earthly world to prove and, similarly to you, they are also trying to realise their purest sentiments with YOU. Will it succeed in the way you are realising your earthly world right now? Will you be able to muster the inner energies in you that are necessary for you to create pure and true sentiments that are full of love? Do you believe in your own true and pure sentiments so much as to be able to transfer them to others? You will need to understand that down here, in the earthly world, it is not that easy to realise. You have the strength and the light for being able to live down here in the way you would like.

As I once would have liked to create the light, harmony and glory in you, you are also able to evoke them in others. You shall see the light and harmony also in the person who is not using the kindest words with you and you shall see the forces in you that motivate you to live together with others so that you accept them and thereby you are able to open your hearts to them. Why should you see and feel something else in you than what you are? Why should you live differently and continue to generate lovelessness in your earthly world? Why should you create the same lovelessness that you have realised so far, and how long are you still going to be able to realise the sentiments that might dislodge you? You must learn to live with your own energies and you shall learn to create the type of strength and energy that allow you to live with others in a way that you transfer peace and harmony towards them even if they are hurting you. They, similarly to you, have been born to learn and you have also been born to learn from THEM! They, similarly to You, are here because they would like to reach the highest level of love vibration down here in the earthly world and for that they will need to realise pure light and love in them and in others. But let me ask, 'How are you going to be able to learn if you are unable to realise your own inner reality and how are they going to learn if you are transmitting impure sentiments to them?' Let the energy start that the heavenly world entails on you, and let the purification process start in which you can realise yourselves.

Every person has the right to live their lives in happiness and without deprivation. In every person the opportunity shall be created to be truly in the earthly world by drawing on their paramount divine energies, and every person's strength shall be multiplied to believe in themselves. This is what we are working for now and this is what requires the purification process that is starting in your world. Why should you live the way you have lived so far down here in the earthly world and thereby start such an incapacity in you that would cause the end of your earthly world? Why can't you 'conjure up' peace and harmony in the hearts by creating the possibility in you to believe that you shall in fact be able to create a new world in you and around you? Man lives with faith. And you shall create changes with Faith too. This period is when your faith is getting strengthened, and letting go of the fears in your faith is what I can help you with. You must learn how to get purified and what human energies you can represent down here in this earthly world. For this, we need people who have the faith to transfer to others, and this is for which we need the pure-hearted heavenly mediators as creators of the information I am bringing down. The processes that made you believe that you were unable to live without others' energies or to create things around you from your own strength must stop. These forces shall no longer be able to dominate you because an aspiration is to be started in the world so that a true and new world would be created of your own energies for you. Thank you for listening to me and thank you for heeding the words in which me, Jesus, the son of God, is present and the aim of which is to start you off on the way!
