

I am Archangel Gabriel. Let me greet you with love.

In the feeling you carry in your hearts, there live you all, there also live us and a heavenly world that includes the Universe too. What can you see in the sky when you lift your eyes?

Stars, sunshine, the moon, but in them we are also all present as well as a universal force that you do not even suspect the existence of.

This force includes a feeling, a feeling of immense love or love energy that also lives in your hearts.

You have created your own reality in love and have somewhat got lost in it.

All the feelings you experienced up there have got lost and all is lost that you represented up there.

In love there appeared a force, a lack of energy, in which you could get lost and not fulfil yourselves.

Such energy appeared in love that evoked just the opposite in you.

A feeling in which you were unable to make yourselves whole, and thereby you could no longer stand by each other as you should have. From that point on, you antagonised each other instead and did not feel the love energy from each other, and therefore the change started all the more and you were unable to experience peace, harmony and the balanced existence that you used to experience up there. In love a world would have been created here on the Earth in which there is peace, harmony and balance, and there shines the flame of pure heavenly love.

But you were unable to create all this since you had been overwhelmed by a feeling in which the goods of the earthly life and the material items of the earthly world were more important to you than the sound of the heart.

You hold everything in your hearts.

Speaking from your hearts is speaking the sound of love.

Acting from your hearts is showing love towards others and accepting everything you get from others.

But you are not able to love even yourselves.

‘How shall I experience my love towards myself?’ you ask me.

‘How should I realise everything I used to experience up there?’ you can ask from us.

And I can reply, ‘Stand in front of the mirror and look into yourself a little, think about your life, think about your fate and think about what you have done so far in the earthly world.

Who are the ones you have helped so far and who are the ones whom you have no longer been able to help but would have been next to.

Look into yourself and think about what the sound of the heart really is!

Can you hear what your heart is telling you?

Have you thought about how many people need help here in this world?

Have you considered how many people would need the sound of your heart, the love of your heart, and everything that you represented up in the heavenly world?’

I have come down among you now to tell you, people, that the love you represented up there can also be realised down here, in the earthly world.

A desire lives in every person’s heart, a huge fire and an immense will.

From these emotions the frequencies can be created that comprise inner harmony and that you can show towards the others.

As soon as they are created in you, can we say that heavenly love has also been created down here, in the earthly world.

I ask you to experience yourselves, try to love yourselves and thereby create your own realities by experiencing your own love, the love of others and yourselves in others, and from that point on, every person will be able to experience the immense energy that you have brought down from up there.

I would furthermore like to ask you to be honest with each other and exist and live in the way you did up there and in the way you represented the energies up there that you have so far been unable to fulfil.

The heavenly world is asking you to start to learn, start to develop and start to teach the other people what the sound of the heart really is, how they can experience their own love and how they can fulfil themselves in the others.

It can only happen and you can only start along this path if you open up your heart and start filling up the others with love.

Please, do not deny the love you represented up there from the others or from yourself.

How can those who cannot love and accept themselves love the others?

How can you think that you can create your own peace and harmony here in the earthly world if you are unable to face yourself and notice your own impurities.

Do not think we cannot see them.

Do not think that you can hide away the sorrow, the pain you experienced in a given context or situation in life from anyone, where you also suffered damages, not only the other person.

You have everything in your emotions. In your emotions there is the desire to experience yourself honestly, purely and with love and pass it on to others.

I, Archangel Gabriel, am sending this message to you now, so that you would live here on the Earth with love, peace and harmony and express everything that you also created in you up here, in the heavenly world, to each other honestly and purely. Thank you.
